2. contacts the floor completely outside the court's boundary;

4. touches the net antennas or does not pass over the net entirely between the net antennas;
5. touches or breaks the plane of a nonplayable area such as adjacent courts scheduled to play, bleachers, benches, etc.;
6. touches any part of a backboard which is hanging in a vertical position, over a playable area if, in the judgement of the official, the ball would not have remained in play if the backboard hadn't been there.

VI. DURING PLAY

- A. A contact is any touch of the ball by a player.
- B. A hit is a contact/touch of the ball which is counted as one of the team's 3 allowable plays before the ball is returned to the opponent.
- C. A team must not have more than 3 hits before the ball crosses the net into the opponent's playing area. When the team's first contact is an action to block, the next contact is considered the team's first hit.
- D. (Coed Only) When the ball is played more than once by a team, at least one of the contacts shall be made by a female player. Contact of the ball during blocking shall not constitute playing the ball. There is no requirement for a male player to contact the ball, regardless of the number of hits by a team.

- E. Team hits include not only intentional hits by the player but also unintentional contacts with the ball. A player may not contact the ball with two separate and consecutive motions. EXCEPTION: When two or more players may touch the ball at the same moment. This is counted as one contact.
- F. The ball may touch any part of the body. The ball must be hit, not caught or thrown. It can rebound in any direction. Receiving a served ball with an overhead pass using open hands is not necessarily a fault. The ball may touch various parts of the body, provided that the contacts take place simultaneously. EXCEPTIONS: During blocking, consecutive contacts may occur by one or more blockers provided the contacts occur during one action. During the first hit of the team (not blocking), the ball may contact various parts of the body consecutively, provided that the contacts occur during one action.

 5. Illegal Hit: A player, in non-playing area, plays a ball.

- H. A ball sent to the opponent's playing area must pass over the net within the crossing space. The crossing space is the part of the vertical plane of the net limited at the sides, by each antenna and its imaginary extension, and above, by the ceiling. A ball penetrating the opponent's side outside of the crossing space may be played back to a teammate, provided it has not completely crossed the vertical plane of the net at the moment of contact. The ball is out when it completely crosses the space under the net.
- I. A ball shall remain in play if it contacts the ceiling or other overhead objects above the playing area. The ball is out of play if it makes contact above the opponent's playing area or above the team's playing area and then crosses the plane of the net into the opponent's court.
- J. In blocking, a blocker may contact the ball beyond the plane of the net inside the antennas, provided the blocker does not interfere with the opponent's play. A player making an attack-hit is permitted to pass hand(s) beyond the net after the attack-hit, provided the ball is contacted within his/her own playing space or within the plane of the net. A player is permitted to pass hand(s) beyond the net inside the antennas and contact the ball over the opponent's court on his or her team's first or second hit, provided the ball has not completely crossed the vertical plane of the net and is directed back into the player's own playing space.
- K. A player may reach or penetrate into the opponent's court and/or space under the net, provided this does not interfere with the opponent's play. Penetration into the opponent's court, beyond the center line to touch the opponent's court with a foot or feet is permitted, provided some part of the penetrating foot/feet remains either in contact with or directly above the center line. Contact the opponents court with any other part of the body (except hair) is a fault.
- L. It is a fault to touch any part of the net or the antennas, except for incidental contact by a player's hair and insignificant contact by a player not involved in the action of playing the ball. A player may touch a post, rope or any other object outside the total length of the net provided this contact does not interfere with play. When the ball is driven into the net and causes it to touch an opponent, no fault is committed.
- M. A replay is the act of putting the ball in play without awarding a point or side-out and without rotation of the serve. A replay shall be declared when:
